

Harry A. Hoffner, Jr.

Once again, in 1994/95 Harry Hoffner used the majority of his research time for the directing and editing of the Hittite Dictionary of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago. In addition to teaching and committee work, he also traveled, lectured, and authored or edited several articles and books.

Publications from his hand which appeared in 1994/95 include "From Head to Toe in Hittite," in Go To The Land I Will Show You: Studies in Honor of Dwight W. Young, edited by Victor Matthews (Winona Lake, Indiana: Eisenbrauns, 1994); "Hittite immakku: 'moreover' or 'just now'?", in Atti del II congresso internazionale de hittitologia, edited by Onofrio Carruba, Mauro Giorgieri, and Clelia Mora (Pavia: Iuculano, 1994); "Hittite iwar and Related Modes of Expressing Comparison," Istanbuler Mitteilungen 43 (1994): 39–51; "Legal and Social Institutions of Hittite Anatolia," in Civilizations of the Ancient Near East, edited by Jack M. Sasson, Karen Rubinson, John Baines, and Gary M. Beckman (New York: Charles Scribner's Sons, 1995); "Mühle, bei den Hethitern," in Reallexikon der Assyriologie, edited by Dietz Otto Edzard (Berlin and New York: Walter de Gruyter, 1995); "The Hittite Laws," in Law Collections from Mesopotamia and Asia Minor, edited by Martha Roth (Atlanta: Scholars Press, 1995); "The Hittite Word for 'Oil' and its Derivatives," Historische Sprachforschung 107 (1994): 104–112; "The Hittites," in Peoples of the Old Testament World, edited by Gerald Mattingly and Edwin Yamauchi (Grand Rapids, Michigan: Baker Book House, 1994); and the recently appeared volume The Hittite Dictionary of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, Volume P, fascicle 1 (pa- to parā) (Chicago: The Oriental Institute, 1994).

Work accepted and forthcoming includes "About Questions," in a Festschrift; "Appu and His Two Sons," "The Queen of Kanesh," and "The Sungod and the Cow," in The Context of Scripture: Canonical Compositions, Monumental Inscriptions and Archival Documents from the Biblical World (Leiden: E. J. Brill); "Hittite Archives," in The Archaeology of Anatolia: An Encyclopedia (New York: Garland Publishing Company); "Hittite Equivalents of Old Assyrian kumrum and epattum," Wiener Zeitschrift für die Kunde des Morgenlandes; "Hittite Language" and "Hittites," in Encyclopedia of Near Eastern Archaeology (New York: Oxford University Press); "Hittites," in Encyclopedia of Near Eastern Archaeology, edited by Eric M. Meyers (New York: Oxford University Press); "Nachlass, bei den Hethitern," in Reallexikon der Assyriologie (Berlin and New York: Walter de Gruyter); "On Safari in Hittite Anatolia," Journal of Indo-European Studies; Perspectives on Hittite Civilization: Selected Writings of Hans Gustav Güterbock, Assyriological Studies (Chicago: The Oriental Institute), and The Hittite Dictionary of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, Volume P, fascicle 2 (parā to pattar) (Chicago: The Oriental Institute).

Research in progress, but not yet submitted, includes The Hittite Laws, Documenta et Monumenta Orientis Antiqui (Leiden: E. J. Brill) and the next fascicle of the P Volume of the Hittite Dictionary.

During the 1994/95 academic year Hoffner also continued to function as a member of the editorial board of the Society of Biblical Literature's Writings from the Ancient World series and as Hittitological consultant for the project Context of Scripture, edited by W. W. Hallo and K. Lawson Younger, Jr., to be published by E. J. Brill in Leiden, The Netherlands.
